Hello There!

H

Holy moly, we're so excited that we're already to this stage. You must have already looked at our work and made a connection to it and we're able to envision you and your love in our work together.

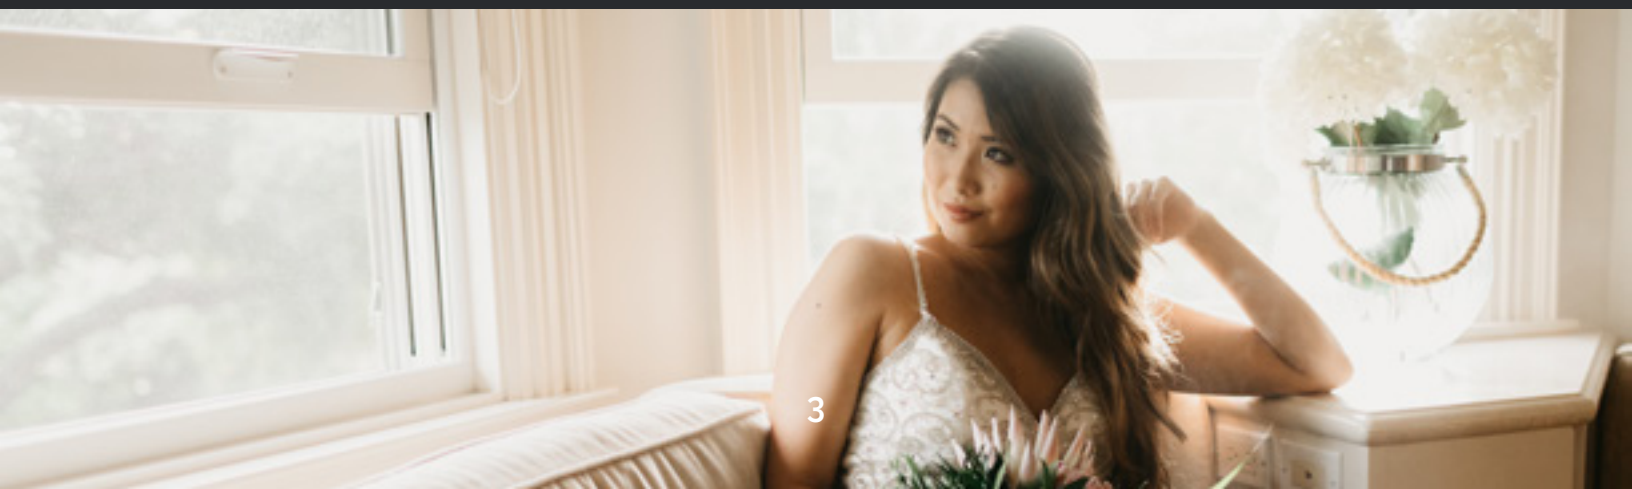

There is seriously no better compliment we could get than a client trusting us to document their love story beautifully and passionately. But first things first, we gotta be a good fit because we want to be more than just a videographer or photographer for you. What does that mean?

It means you've got to be okay with us capturing all the messy stuff. That you'll let us in and document the perfectly imperfect, the moments you're there for and the ones you miss. We wanna capture it all. We wanna capture your parents embarrassingly smooching you on your cheek on your wedding day, your crazy wind blown hair across your face as you read your vows to one another, the mud staining your white dress, the McDonalds run you have to make mid wedding day, your eighty-something-year-old grandma wildly getting down on the dance floor, the unexpected rain drops streaming down your cheeks with your tears. The big moments and the little ones.

We wanna get it all. We wanna be more than just your vendor. We want you to feel like your our bffs by the end of your biggest adventure so that we can capture your love story from the outside in and the inside out.

Storytelling isn't something we do, it's who we are.

02

Together, Let's Tell Your Story!

Storytelling isn't just something we do, it's who we are.

We believe that our couples have the greatest story to tell. It's a story of tears, laughter, anticipation and hope. We believe that these stories are worth holding on to and passed on for generations to come. We want your kids to see this and even your grandkids! A wedding is so much more than just an event. It's history. It's a story that marks the birth of a new family and the beginning of a lifelong legacy. Our passion is in caring for that story, capturing the emotions and creating a story that connects with you.

*“Memories fade, but our films and photos can keep memories vibrant and the feeling of a wedding day fresh.
We strive to capture the emotions of a wedding and what makes your love unique.”*

The Film Collections

While most videographers are all about capturing visuals, we love to embrace sound. Whether it's your vows, reading each other love letters or speeches that happen in your wedding day, we use that to help build your storyline when editing. We want to make sure we tell your love story very passionately. While we would never suggest videography as a substitute for photography, photos fall short in helping you remember the sounds, jokes, toasts, vows, dances of your wedding. We want to make your film as cinematic as possible while capturing the rawest and purest form of emotion that goes on in your wedding day.

“10/10 RECOMMEND Visionize! Both my husband and I were anxiously waiting for our video to come in, IT WAS SO WORTH THE WAIT!!! They managed to capture the unseen details and brief moments that we’ll forever hold dear to us. We especially appreciate having our vows recited throughout the video in which was used as a dialogue. So brilliant! I’ve watched it countless times, and still counting.”

Frequently Asked Questions

VIDEOGRAPHY

Q: What is your wedding videography style?

A: Cinematic Storytelling. Being film major backgrounds, we want to make your film as cinematic as possible while capturing the rawest and purest form of emotion that goes on in your wedding day.

Q: How long is the wedding day coverage?

A: We offer several options for the length of coverage to meet each couple's unique needs. The most popular selection is in the range of 6-8 hours of continuous coverage.

Q: How do I make sure all the events of the wedding are captured?

A: The more information you give us about your wedding, the better we can capture it. We are always keeping our eyes open for great moments to put into your wedding film, but if there are specific events or people, please let us know! Maybe you have a surprise performance for your spouse, perhaps there's a gift passed down from your grandparents or you are exchanging gifts and notes before the wedding, we want to capture it!

Q: When should my videographer start?

A: It's really up to the client as to when we will begin filming. There are several important moments prior to the ceremony that most couples want included in their film. This includes prepping hair & makeup with the bridesmaids, mom zipping the bride into the wedding gown, dad's face when he sees you for the first time and recorded messages between the bride & groom. Ideally, schedule about an hour to capture this footage.

Q: Will you be there to shoot our wedding?

A: Yes! However, in circumstances of an unforeseen event, we will have backup videographers ready in whom we trust.

Q: Will you shoot at multiple locations?

A: Our packages include unlimited locations for the time you hire us for. We'll be there to capture it all!

Q: What happens if you are sick or unable to make our wedding?

A: I do my best to make every single wedding, but it's always good to plan for the worst. We have assistants that are capable of filling in and also work closely with other wedding companies who can also fill in the event of an emergency. We know we have only one chance to help you capture your wedding and we will be there!

Q: What is the minimum amount of time needed for the videographer before the ceremony?

A: We will need a minimum of thirty minutes prior to the ceremony to mic the groom and ceremony locations as well as film pre-ceremony details before getting into position for the ceremony.

Q: Do you offer Drone shots?

A: If the location permits and if time is set aside for this, yes we are able to.

Q: We are thinking about doing a wedding "first-look," do you think that we should?

A: More couples are choosing to meet in private before the wedding ceremony, allowing for some beautiful and intimate photographs and videography to be captured. It can be a private event for the couple or shared with close friends and family. This time is a low-pressure, yet highly emotional, way to spend a few special moments as a couple before walking down the aisle.

If your wedding timeline is tight after the ceremony, a first look session can allow you to create amazing images, without sacrificing time with your guests. Your photographer and videographer can create the environment for this special moment and then allow it to unfold naturally. This gives you the private time to exchange looks and words without interference and direction.

Q: Do you do same day edits?

A: We do not offer this service at the time. Sorry!

Q: Is your video time continuous or can it start and stop?

A: As our video team can only service one couple per day, our coverage times are continuous.

Q: How many cameras do you use for coverage?

A: We use 3-4 cameras.

Q: How do you work with photographers? Can you recommend any that you like to work with?

A: We are total team players. It's not "us" vs. "them," it should be both of us working together to give you great photos and video. We do everything we can to help the photographers get their shots without compromising ours. That said, we love working with specific photographers so don't be afraid to reach out to hear our recommendations.

Q: How do you capture audio?

A: The audio recording of your wedding day is super important and we come prepared. We will bring wireless mics and ambient mics to record your ceremony. The Groom + officiant will be asked to wear a wireless mic during the ceremony, which will be removed immediately afterward.

Other mics are placed throughout the ceremony site to record all the readings and music played during your ceremony. Throughout the reception we will plug into the DJ's sound system, so all announcements, toasts, special dances and other events will be crystal clear.

Q: Can I choose my own music?

A: We are now transitioning from using "popular songs" on the radio to using purchased licensed music. Buying the license to music is important to help keep us legal and in line with copyright laws. Purchasing a song from iTunes and using it for your wedding film is illegal and can come with very pricey penalties.

Q: Where do you get your music?

A: We have 4 online sources where we are able to license our music: The Music Bed, Sound Stripe, Artlist.io + Marmoset Music. These sites are AMAZING and we will only use music that fits the vibe of your wedding.

Q: What is an HD digital file of my wedding?

A: A High Definition (HD) digital file is the highest quality video of your wedding film. This Quicktime (mp4) digital file is rendered/exported at the same quality that the camera recorded. A benefit to receiving your wedding video as a digital file is the option to create additional copies for safekeeping or gift giving. Because these files are not copy protected, you are free to use as you'd like. The HD digital file can also be streamed to your viewing device such as Apple TV or Roku, as well as stored on your computer, tablet or even phone.

Q: What is raw footage? How can I get raw footage?

A: Raw footage is every second of footage shot on your wedding day. Each couple's wedding length varies, but most will average between 4-6 hours of raw footage.

While your final edited version contains all the big moments of your wedding day, your raw footage will include everything – additional angles, more candid moments and longer segments of time that were condensed in the edit. As this is raw footage, please keep in mind there may be floor shots, the ceilings, zooms and shakes as the videographer is framing the shot.

For brides and grooms interested in receiving the raw footage from their wedding day, we offer this for an extra fee to cover the additional production time and materials required.

Q: How is the best way to archive my wedding for the future?

A: To protect your investment, we recommend that you create additional copies of your wedding and put them away for safe keeping. We highly suggest you upload your files to your own personal cloud services (Dropbox, Google Drive, etc.).

Q: Can you set up a slide show and a screen at the wedding reception?

A: Unfortunately we do not own a projector/screen and we do not offer slide show services.

Q: When do I get my finished wedding film?

A: Depending on the package you select, you may receive it anywhere between 1-3 months. Please refer to our packages above to see your estimated time of delivery.

Q: Can I copy my wedding + give it out to family and friends?

A: Yes you may. The reason why we deliver online is so that your link can easily be shared with your family + friends.

Q: What is filmed versus what ends up in my final video?

A: In film production, it's often said that the magic happens while editing. The same is true with your film. For example, we may shoot for 45 seconds of your maid of honor putting on your necklace, but only show 8 seconds on your finished film.

This footage, combined with a great musical soundtrack and you and your bridesmaids voices all edited together creates a beautifully finished scene in your wedding video, while if we just showed the entire 45 seconds, the impact would be significantly diminished.

Q: What is the Extended Documentary option?

A: In the Extended Doc, you get our Documentary Edit + cleaned up Raw footage of your wedding. Your raw footage will include everything – additional angles, more candid moments and longer segments of time that were condensed in the edit.

Q: Do you do re-edits? Can I make changes to my edited wedding video?

A: If we missed something important to you or misspelled something, please let us know and we can make that change.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Q: Are all of my images retouched/edited?

A: Yes, you will receive all your photos edited and in high resolution (ready for print).

Q: How much photos do I get?

A: You will receive the best photos of your wedding day. Usually we deliver between 500 – 1000 images, depending on the booked time frame.

Q: Does our package include an engagement session?

A: While two of our packages includes an engagement session, you may add an engagement session or post wedding session to any wedding package. Please refer to our "Collections" above to determine if you have a scheduled engagement session.

Q: How many photographers are included in my package?

A: We have packages that include one and two photographers coverage of your wedding day. Please refer to our "Collections" above to determine if you have one or two photographers on your wedding day.

Q: I have family that is from out of town, how can I show them my photos after the wedding?

A: Your wedding photos will be available in your secure online Gallery where you may choose to share your link and password with family and friends.

Q: How does your online Galleries work?

A: Once your personal online Gallery is launched, your pictures will be ready for download without watermarks, without extra costs. The Gallery is password protected and can only be attended by users with these login information.

Q: Do we get a photo album?

A: Unfortunately we do not offer photo album services. We do however give you a print release form to give you the option to customize your own photo album.

Q: Do we get the copyrights and freedom to use the digital files of our wedding photos?

A: For your own purposes, yes.

Q: Do you use flash very often or use natural light?

A: We prefer shooting in available light, but use flashes when the natural light isn't adequate. For reception ballrooms with very little light, we often use flash to help create a romantic mood.

Q: Should I provide a list of family photos that I would like captured?

A: Capturing family photos is an important part of the day. Making a list of family photos and prioritizing it is a great way to make sure you get all the shots that are important to you. Talk with your parents and each other about who you want photographed. Also, please discuss with us any unique family dynamics that we should be aware of.

Q: I want to get a very large family group shot. When can we do that?

A: Right after your ceremony would be a perfect time. From there, you can break down into your list of family photos.

Q: Is your photography time continuous or can it start and stop?

A: As our team can only service one client per day, our coverage times are continuous.

Q: What time should the photographer begin on our wedding day?

A: It is common for your wedding photographer to start the day shooting with the bride. It is recommended that hair and makeup be complete or nearly complete when we arrive to start taking photos. We can then capture the bride's details and candid of the preparation before moving on to the rest of the wedding day.

Q: I have certain shots that I absolutely have to have on our wedding day, can you do this?

A: Absolutely! We are your personal photographer for the day. We will work with you closely to develop a "must-have" shot list.

Q: Do you pose all the wedding photos or just shoot what is happening?

A: We will work with you to establish a photo plan unique to you and your preferences. Most clients opt for a stylized photo-journalistic approach to their wedding photos. Stylized wedding photography blends the storytelling elements of photojournalism with elements of traditional photography. Images often have an artistic nature, using blurred backgrounds, different levels of focus and a variety of angles.

With stylized shooting, we will help to create the environment for your natural emotion and personalities to be reflected and provide coaching to look your best without creating over-posed photographs. For special moments like your ceremony, special dances and toasts, we will take a more photo-journalistic approach and allow the events to unfold, while capturing them with an artistic eye.

Q: My friend/family member is really interested in being a wedding photographer and asked if they could shoot also during the day, what should I tell them?

A: While you might like to have the extra images from your friend, it can also be distracting during the formal wedding photos and romantics if there is more than one person providing direction. We would suggest that your friend focus on images from the guests perspective or additional images where your photographer is not currently executing your wedding photography plan.

Q: Should the wedding photographer ride with us in the limo on the wedding day or follow us?

A: We will follow your limo between locations. If you have an additional 2nd photographer, you can opt in to have that photographer join you in the limo.

Q: If a guest requests a photo be taken of them, will you do it?

A: Of course! Your wedding day is great opportunity to get professional photos of you, your family and your guests.

Q: We won't be attending our cocktail hour because we'll be getting our pictures taken, but we also want photos of our guests attending the cocktail hour, as well as the room details. How can this happen?

A: If your wedding photography package includes two photographers, you can choose to have your second shooter capture room details and the guests at your cocktail hour instead of attending your session. While it's not always easy to do, if your wedding photography package includes one photographer, you will need to try to include time in your wedding day photography plan and timeline to make room to capture some of these images.

Q: I have a Pinterest board of photos I like, can I send it to you?

A: Sure. Your wedding day photography is a collaborative process between you and your photographer. Amazing things can happen when You show us what inspires you (and even what you never, ever want to do). Allow your professional photographer to use their creative gifts to capture and create unique images for you based upon what you have shared. We can look at your unique locations, variances in lighting and work with your personality to create wedding photos that are perfectly you.

Q: How long will it take to capture the family photos at the church?

A: It depends on how many groupings you need. On average, most churches will allow 30 minutes for family formals.

Q: What if I want to do table shots of guests during dinner at the reception?

A: For clients that want to do table shots with their guests during dinner, we highly recommend capturing them on the dance floor prior to your guests getting their dinner. Your banquet captain or emcee can excuse two tables at the time to the dance floor, where you both will be seated. As one table is taking their photo with you, one table can be waiting on the side for their turn. This helps to keep the flow going so that you can have enough time to get back to your seats to eat dinner before your formal program begins.

Q: How early should I do my engagement session?

A: If you selected an engagement session, we recommend the shoot to take place at least 90 days prior to your wedding date.

Q: How is your style concerning photography editing?

A: We are happy to edit your photos in a natural, organic, romantic, warm, and moody style. You can see the style of our editing on our page. Some pictures will be black and white – when it fits to the motive.

FINANCE QUESTIONS

Q: How do payment schedules work?

A: To lock in your wedding date, we require a signed contract and a 30% deposit. The final payment will be due on or by the day of your wedding.

Q: Can I pay my balance in full before the wedding?

A: If that works better for you, that is perfectly fine with us. Let us know how you would like to do so.

Q: What forms of payments do you accept?

A: We are happy to accept cash, check, credit card or bank transfers.

Q: Do you offer discounts?

A: We are firm on our prices as we believe in the quality of our work/service that we are able to provide. We do however offer discounts for our “Bucket List” weddings. If your wedding/love story requires us to travel out-of-state, please reach out to us. We want to see every corner of the world we can, and would love to do it with you.

Q: What if we have a big gap in our wedding day where we don't need filming/photography? Do you have a split time fee?

A: If you would like to split your continuous coverage time and if your split time gap is longer than 1 hour, we have a split time fee of $300.

Q: What if I want to keep you longer than your original time?

A: If you would like to add additional time on the day of your wedding, you can add time for $250 per hour.

Q: Can we customize our package?

A: Yes, of course! We want to be able to accommodate to your wedding day. Let us know about what you would like to customize and we can try our best to work something out.

MISC QUESTIONS

Q: Should we invite you for dinner?

A: It is customary to invite your photographer/videographer to dinner. After a busy day of shooting, we will truly appreciate having dinner. If you have a “vendor table,” it is common to seat your DJ, Photographer and Videographer at the same table. It's a good idea for your service providers to be close and available in the event that they are needed to shoot a spontaneous event.

Q: How do you deliver the final products?

A: We do not provide DVD or Blu-Ray for wedding films.

We deliver the final HD digital file online via Dropbox. The link will then be downloadable for up to one year. We recommend you back up the file on your personal computer/cloud service.

We deliver your photos retouched within 1-3 months depending on the package selected through our online galleries.

With an additional cost, you are able to request your film and photos delivered on an external hard drive.

Q: Where/when do you eat?

A: If you want to give us a seat, place us where we can be flexible. We always eat at the same time as the wedding guests.

Q: Where are you located? Can I book you for a wedding abroad?

A: We call the beautiful Hawai'i our home, however we travel often for gigs. It's a pleasure to travel where the best day of your life takes place. We'd love to travel to wherever your story takes you!

Q: Where/when do you eat?

A: If you want to give us a seat, place us where we can be flexible. We always eat at the same time as the wedding guests.

Q: Do you shoot anything else besides weddings?

A: Yes, all sorts! We often get follow ups from our wedding clients to shoot their gender reveals, maternity + family photos. We hope to become lifetime friends + not just someone you hire to document your wedding day.

Q: We don't know where to shoot our romantic wedding photos/videos, can you recommend some ideas?

A: You bet! We can make location recommendations for your romantic photos during your meeting one month prior to your wedding. Having an idea of the style of photos that you are looking for can help in selecting a great location (ex. Urban, Nature, Water, Location that is special to you, etc).

Q: Can you get the photo/video clip of the grooms face when I come down the aisle?

A: Depending upon the rules regarding photographer/videographer movement at your ceremony venue, we will do our absolute best to capture a photo/video of the groom's face. The desire to have images of both the bride and groom's face while the bride is walking down the aisle will often lead clients into choosing a 2 photographer/videographer package.

A romantic couple is shown in a close embrace, nearly kissing. The woman, with long brown hair, is wearing a white spaghetti-strap dress. The man, with short dark hair, is wearing a light blue button-down shirt over a pink t-shirt. They are standing on a beach with a large bridge, likely the Manhattan Bridge, visible in the background under a warm, golden-hour sky. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.
